

MASTER MIND

Open your mind and sharpen your toys,
For this is the Law:

If you believe in suffering, you will.
If you believe you need redeeming, ask yourself "from what?"
If you believe life requires sorrowing and grieving, then it does.

On the other hand, if you believe Joy is your birthright, then it is.
If you believe in loving everything, you will be loved.
If you believe happiness, joy, and beauty are everywhere,
then that's what you will see and have.

AS YOU THINK, SO YOU ARE

Is Cosmic Law.
Thus, exactly how your biology is hardwired.

The difficulty lies in thinking, mostly, what others have told you to think.
From the time when you didn't know any better, until now.
When you think everything that you think is the truth,
You've been brainwashed, Baby Love.

And now, you not only believe the brain's absorptions,
But you believe them to be your original thoughts.

What a challenging mess.

Authenticity, heart-deep honesty, and humility are the clean-up crew.
Think, say, and do nothing without authenticity.
Examine your motives with deep honesty.
Discover the source of your Will-To-Be with humility.

You actually become what you "think, say, and do,"
So your source better come from Authentic Independent Thinking.

Otherwise, you're leading a two-faced life,
And hypocrisy, by any name, rots the soul.

Wake up Baby!
Design yourself impeccably,
So you can put on grown-up panties.
