

ABOUT BEAUTY

When you see something that's beautiful and
Then you see something that's not beautiful,
It isn't the eye that makes the call, Baby Love.

It's the subconscious brain reacting, jerking your emotions.

Judgments are instant, involuntary, and pre-programmed
According to training, experiences, cultural bias, and past-life left-overs.

When you take intentional control and invoke Response,
Anything can be beautiful,
If you say so.

It's a matter of taking hold of your attitude toggle-stick,
Switching it to BEAUTY AND leaving it there,
Instead of reacting to the negative wind of mindless opinion.

That simple switch brings you close to Unconditional Love.

Do an experiment:
Consider everything beautiful for just one day.
Double-dog dare you.

Okay then, one hour.
