

DEATH IS THE BEGINNING

Death is the beginning of a new way of being, Baby Love.

Death simply peels away the external shell
That's enclosed the Light for so long.

Death is an Angel of Liberation.

Death takes away our pain, sorrow, grief, and anxiety
By revealing us as the Truth of LIFE.

Death is the Divine Failsafe that releases us when
We have completed the mission for which
Our life circumstances were designed.

Too much information? Hang on, Baby Love. There's more.

You've already died many times, so you've had a lot of practice and learned a bit.
You've already been born many times, so you've had a lot of practice,
And a lot of amnesia about the time between Death and Re-Life.

Each body-life is a school that teaches Expansion of Consciousness--which means
Awakening--which means Evolving--which means Becoming Enlightened.

And you know you have awakened a bit more every time you die.
Or, you know you have not become very much more, at all.

Forever Becoming the object of LIFE, you see.
But you can't do it, yet, without flesh body-life experiences.

The beauty of body-death is the signal of progress it gives
Toward the time when body-life will not be necessary for further Awakening.

You've been informed:
Death is the beginning of a new way of being, Baby Love.

Now. What are you going to do with the information?
