

HERE'S THE DEAL

Are you sitting down?

When LIFE leaves your body, all your “important” things:

—Bank statements, IRS returns, great grandfather’s baby dress, insurance, licenses, houses, washing machines, graduation and wedding pictures, cars, tractors, diamond rings, and that priceless Van Gough you stole, ad infinitum—

BECOME WORTHLESS.

LIFE, you see, gave them value only as throw-down TEACHERS

Of the true source of security;

Of the reason for truth;

Of the practice of honesty;

Of the necessity for cleanliness;

Of Planet Earth as a treasure;

Of community and cooperation;

Of loving and compassion.

Are you learning those, yet?

Any clue what you might still need to learn in your next life?

You see, the lessons you NEED to learn

Will determine the circumstances, the attitudes and abilities,
as well as the stuff-n-things

You will value—or not—the next time you inhabit a body.

That's just the way the flow goes, Baby Love.

Did you learn anything yet?

Don't worry.

No failing possible, only repeating.

That's the deal.
