

ONLY THE OLD DIE YOUNG

Only the old die young,
So lament not those ancient infants
Who transition, seemingly, too early.

They are Old Souls completing their karmic debt.

We are on the same spiritual quest they are.
Just not so far along The Path.

You understand, their journey requires
Them to go beyond form to continue the learning,
To continue their crossing into Illumination.

Small consolation to the living, still mourning in matter.
But stop feeling sorry for yourself, Baby Love.
Pretty sure those kids won't require another Earth body
To complete this leg of their journey.
