

RELIGIONS ARE PRE-ORDAINED

Religions are pre-ordained belief systems
Which must be adopted and followed
In order to be saved and have an afterlife.

Spirituality is the practice of allowing
The Divinity within you to mature
And manifest goodness in the world.

Separate, but not equal.
All humans are on a spiritual path.
Religion is a spiritual path.
Life, itself, is a spiritual path.
There are as many spiritual paths as there are humans.

A religion is either "Born Into" or "Chosen"
As a means to complete a segment
Of an individual's spiritual path.

Baby Love, wake up!.

"Accident" is just a word used by the ignorant,
Uninformed, or careless.
It has no reality.

You chose to be born into the family, culture, environment,
And circumstances where you find yourself now.
Your problems are exactly precise,
And intentionally YOUR problems for a reason.

Find the problems and make up your own excuses,
If you must dabble in the fixing.

Take care of your soul's spiritual business,
Or pray a lot to be saved.

See which one feels better and go with it.

Same difference.

See you next time.
