

WHAT YOU SEE IS SELDOM

What you see is seldom all that is.

What you hear is a miniscule fraction
Of what can be heard.

What you think is below Kindergarten level
In terms of the Cosmos.

What you walk around in is the most dense of all your vehicles.
It's the one that demands to be fed and gets nasty,
Irritable when it's tired and dirty.

It's the body that you designed.
It's the one that allows you to have
The experiences you planned
Before you ever drew a breath.

God's Truth!

The old saying that "experience is the best teacher" is 100% on target.
Deep in your heart, you always knew that.

To have experiences is the only reason you

- 1) Built your particular physical body,
- 2) Selected a certain family,
- 3) Came to a specific country and culture on
- 4) Earth.

Keep THAT always High in your Mind.
Fix Gratitude in your heart like a rock,
And enjoy the ride, Baby Love.

After all, you've earned the ticket.
